Dear Colonel Grogan:

I want to find out if there would be any objections there to my teaching a course in intelligence to a naval reserve officers' unit here. I hate to bother you with the request, but I suspected it would come to you wherever I sent it, and so wrote direct.

I didn't ask for this. The commanding officer, CDR. Edward Comee, a man I didn't know, telepho ed me before I had even tried to find out where Naval Reserve headquarters were. I didn't want to seem uncooperative on my first contact and so said I would try to find out if there would be any objections on my part--they will handle the ONI end.

The course they want is a general one (ONI Course 403; NAVPERS 92329A). The group are local civilians with the usual Reserve Officer clearances.

Hope it won't put you to too much trouble to find out if this can be approved and if so, what further steps I should take if any. Best to all at the office.

Sincerely,
